Employment and field of actions,

2002- CIT Energy Management AB

Job description: Project manager and active in projects driven by others.
100 % employment.

Competence and example of assignments

As an employee at CIT, Energy Management AB I am involved in several different projects in relation to different clients. I work with projects that vary a lot in extent and content depending on the client. The business is about efficient use of energy and improved indoor climate. A great deal of the work is about evaluation of different methods and systems for recourse- and energy saving measures.

I am also responsible for some educations at technical universities and courses for practitioners at different companies.
